ORGANIZED BY

UNDER THE AUSPICES OF

INVITATION

XXXVIII School of Hydraulics, similarly to previous events, is intended to provide a forum for scientists and engineers working in the field of broadly understood hydraulics. By bringing together experts (academics and practitioners) as well as young scientists, we hope to create a very good atmosphere for scientific debate and learning, and also to make this occasion an enjoyable experience for the participants.

It would be a pleasure to meet you in Poland in May 2019.
